VI. Admission Decisions

1. ISU's Office of Academic Affairs will conduct a preliminary review upon receiving admission applications. Applicants who pass the preliminary review will proceed to a second review. If necessary, applicants may be required to take a test on professional subjects or language proficiency. Admission offers will be issued to successful applicants after their application results are approved by ISU's Committee of Admission for International Students.
2. Applicants applying to two or more departments or programs and passing the review should go to <https://enroll.isu.edu.tw/DI/> to select the department or program they intend to enroll in.

VII. Notification of Application Results

1. A formal notification will be sent to each applicant individually.
2. Under no circumstances does the acceptance letter guarantee the issuance of a visa; visas are approved and issued solely by R.O.C. diplomatic missions.

VIII. Enrollment

1. If any information or documents provided by an applicant or included in the application packet are found to be falsified, misappropriated, or tampered with, the applicant will be denied admission. If such a violation is discovered after enrollment, the student's student status will be revoked, and no certificate will be issued. If discovered after graduation, the awarded degree will be annulled, and the diploma will be rescinded.
2. A complete enrollment packet will be sent to successful applicants along with the formal notification. They should follow the provided instructions to pay the tuition and other required fees and to complete all enrollment procedures. Failure to do so will result in denial of enrollment at ISU. Upon enrollment, they should submit their passport, a photocopy of their graduation certificate (or diploma) verified as a true copy by the local R.O.C. diplomatic mission, and an official academic transcript. Failure to submit any of these documents will also result in denial of enrollment at ISU.

3. When applying for a visa, successful applicants should submit a health certificate, issued by a qualified hospital and completed using the ISU-provided form, to the local R.O.C. diplomatic mission. The health certificate should include results of an HIV test, proof of positive measles and rubella antibodies, or documentation of prophylactic vaccination. Upon enrollment, they should also submit a copy of the health certificate to ISU's Health Section and participate in the group health check-up for freshmen arranged by ISU. They should consult the website of the local R.O.C. diplomatic mission to determine if a specific form is required for the visa application.
4. Upon enrollment, new international students should submit proof of health and personal injury insurance valid in Taiwan for at least six months from their date of arrival; the proof should be verified by the local R.O.C. diplomatic mission. Students who have not yet obtained insurance may pay insurance premiums and request that ISU arrange insurance on their behalf (this service is available only to officially enrolled international students).
5. Rules regarding part-time employment:
  - (1) Officially enrolled international students may apply for a work permit after obtaining an Alien Residence Certificate and securing the consent of ISU. Those who work without a valid work permit will be subject to a fine ranging from NT$30,000 to NT$150,000. When seeking part-time employment, whether on or off campus, international students should always prioritize their personal safety.
  - (2) International students can apply to the Office of International and Cross-strait Affairs. A work permit issued by the Workforce Development Agency, Ministry of Labor, is valid for a maximum of one year. Those with a valid work permit are not permitted to work more than 20 hours per week, except during summer and winter vacations.
  - (3) In case of any further questions or concerns, please contact the Office of International and Cross-strait Affairs for more information.
6. Matters not mentioned herein, if any, should be governed by the MOE Regulations Regarding International Students Undertaking Studies in Taiwan, the MOE Regulations Governing the Assessment and Recognition of Foreign Academic Records by Institutions of Higher Education, the MOE Regulations Regarding the Assessment and Recognition of Academic Credentials for Mainland Area, the MOE Regulations Governing the Examination and Recognition of Educational Qualifications from Hong Kong and Macao, the Rules of International Admissions at I-Shou University, and the resolutions adopted by ISU's Committee of Admission for International Students.

IX. Tuition, Other Required Fees, Accommodation, and Living Expenses

1. Tuition and Other Required Fees: The tuition and other required fees for 2025 are provided for reference. The exact amounts will be based on the latest announcements issued by ISU's Office of Accounting. ISU reserves the right to make reasonable adjustments.
2. Accommodation: New international students will be assigned to dormitories at the Main Campus (those admitted to medicine-related departments may reside at the Medical Campus). The accommodation fees for 2025 are provided for reference, and the exact amounts will be based on the latest announcements issued by ISU's Office of Student Affairs. ISU reserves the right to make reasonable adjustments.

X. Scholarships

1. Taiwan Scholarship Program

International students may apply for the Taiwan Scholarship, awarded by the government of the Republic of China (R.O.C.), through the local R.O.C. diplomatic mission before arriving in Taiwan. For more information, please visit: <https://english.moe.gov.tw/> → Study in Taiwan → Scholarships → Taiwan Scholarship Program.

2. ISU International Student Scholarships:

Scholarship types and amounts are as follows:

- (1) The maximum scholarship amount per new international student includes the tuition and other required fees of the first academic year, along with a subsidy of NT$20,000 for on-campus accommodation. Once approved by the Scholarship Committee for International Students, the scholarship amount will be divided equally and awarded over two semesters.
- (2) For continuing international students (excluding those who received the scholarship as new international students), the maximum scholarship amount per person covers the tuition and other required fees for one semester. The exact scholarship amount will be determined by the Scholarship Committee for International Students based on each student's academic performance.

- (3) International students are required to participate in service-learning under the supervision of the Office of International and Cross-strait Affairs. The Office will evaluate students' performance, and the results will serve as an important reference for the Scholarship Committee for International Students when reviewing scholarship applications.
- (4) Scholarship recipients should report to the Office of International and Cross-strait Affairs and complete the enrollment process on the first day of school. The Office will deduct the tuition, other required fees, and accommodation fees from the scholarship amount. If the scholarship amount is less than the total fees payable, recipients are responsible for paying the balance.
- (5) If a new international student who is a scholarship recipient, under special circumstances, will not live on campus during the first year of study, they should not request ISU to disburse the portion of the scholarship intended to cover accommodation fees as specified above.
- (6) In one of the following circumstances, ISU reserves the right to require a scholarship recipient to return the full amount of the scholarship awarded for the current semester and to disqualify them from receiving future scholarships. Such recipients should be responsible for paying the tuition, other required fees, and accommodation fees previously covered by the scholarship in order to maintain their student status at ISU.
  - a. Failing to complete the enrollment process for the semester in which the scholarship is awarded;
  - b. Applying for a deferral of admission;
  - c. Transferring to another school;
  - d. Suspending or withdrawing from studies while the University is in session;
  - e. Having an attendance rate below 70 percent during the first nine weeks of the current semester for reasons other than force majeure;
  - f. Engaging in activities unrelated to academic study in Taiwan;
  - g. Having a record of minor demerits or more severe disciplinary actions;
  - h. Resuming studies after suspension; or
  - i. Having received a personal conduct score of less than 85 in the previous semester.
- (7) Scholarship recipients are not eligible to apply for other scholarships of a similar nature offered by ISU during the same academic year. International students who have received scholarships of a similar nature from the government of the Republic of China or partner corporations are not eligible to apply for the scholarship. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the above rule does not apply to those who have obtained special consent.

- (8) The Scholarship Committee for International Students will review all scholarship applications. Successful applicants will receive the scholarship for their first year at ISU and are required to submit a new application for the second year of study. For more information, please refer to the Regulations for the Awarding of International Student Scholarships at I-Shou University at: <https://oica.isu.edu.tw/en-US>.
- (9) ISU reserves the right to make reasonable amendments to the regulations and rules governing the International Student Scholarships.
